

VIDEO RESUME

AVIK CHAKRABORTY

Why video resumes for students?

- Creative projects display
- Challenge students to think “out of the box”
- Give them an introduction to the out world challenges
- Offers the recruiters to see your soft skills, public speaking skills and communication skills.

What needs to be included?

- Personal profile
- Key skills or professional qualification
- Work experience (if any)
- Key projects and achievements
- Education and trainings
- Hobbies and interests.

Video resume Do's

- Keep it short, between one to three minutes
- Dress professionally in business attire just like an in person interview
- Focus on professional endeavours and not personal ones
- Discuss why you would be a good hire for the company
- Thank the viewer for considering your employment

Video resume Don'ts

- Not all employers are interested
- Might not have a place in the standard application system
- It does not replace the standard one
- Don't mix your personal life with professional one

Why Video resume is important?

- All the jobseekers out there want to make an impression on the recruiter. For that, they have the opportunity to make their resume appealing yet enticing. But still, the resume only does not hold the attention of the recruiters much. That is why, the revolutionary modernized hiring tool has been discovered which is called video resumes. For those who are not yet familiar with this tool, this is an online video resume created by job seekers which later on gets uploaded by them to a job seeker profile. The video pitch often includes a brief job history overview, qualities and crisp information about the person seeking a job.

How does video resume help?

- Many of you must be thinking what impact the video resumes create on the recruiters. Do they really help in getting the job?
- Well, if consider these queries, video resumes allow employers to have an idea about the job seeker based on their soft skills. Hence, ofcourse, it helps them to seek a job. Soft Skills include the communication skills, the confidence of the job seeker which is no way possible to portray through text resumes.

Video resume tips to stand out from the crowd!

- We are here to make your journey to video CV a little more interesting and easy.
- Best Tips to make it attractive and appropriate...

Never dictate your CV

- Video CVs are very common these days, more and more recruiters are looking for the same. The company that you apply to would have your resume already, so never dictate the same resume again in your video CV.
- Add points beyond your resume and try not to repeat yourself.

Always prepare a final draft before you record!

- After watching several video resume(s), you should map out what and how you will communicate with the interviewer.
- Following the crucial video resume tips, start with drafting a clear cut write-up, edit and finalize the content.

Practice the pitch before you deliver!

- Interview tips before you record, practice it several times so it's perfect. The words and phrases should be strong enough to proving your credibility.

For which position one should create a video resume?

- There is no specified category, so I guess showing your confidence level and how good you are in maintaining communication would be required. As every job requires some soft skills . So, without any second thought, go ahead and create your own video resume.

Go through video resume sample!

- As now you have decided to create a video resume sample for yourself, it is strongly suggested to go through sample videos created by others, so that you shall get an idea of how the things work. You will get answers to questions like what to be said in the video, what to be worn, how to create a video etc.

How does video resume help to understand ones' personality?

- a) through your gestures
- b) through your postures
- c) through your attire
- d) all of the above